Conference Call Classroom

This is a beautiful foundation course presenting the most important fundamental energetic setting for your life. Grounding is an energetic connection between your physical body and the physical Earth. When you anchor your spiritual light into the Earth, your light becomes expansive and radiates into your personal life and connects you to the supportive spiritual light of the Earth. This greatly facilitates more presence of mind, empowered communication, better psychic protection, greater levels of personal power and it enhances your ability to manifest your life's goals. This study also includes teaching you to deeply clear the issues that keep you from being grounded. You'll learn to access the power within the Earth as a beautiful healing energy to replenish your body, which feels wonderful...

Hello!

I'll be presenting a class called Power Grounding on Sunday, March 7th over the telephone. This class is a foundation course for any system of healing that you'll ever do. It's also a wonderful energetic setting to simply make your life work better. You will learn about meditation, how to do your own self-healing, to transform your life in a gentle and easy manner, how to be centered and grounded, how to easily clear and replenish your field with your own personal power. If you already have a practice, this particular class will deepen your understanding of healing and add another dimension to your healing practice. Classes over the phone are easy and fun without ever leaving home.

Hope to hear your voice in class!
